The Remington Nature Center will unveil several new temporary window displays, all of which depict military history. These displays will run from Saturday, November 11, 2017 through Wednesday, January 31, 2018. Guests will be able to view over 200 unique military artifacts spanning from 1918 to present-day. When viewed together, they easily show the progress and advancement, over time, of war's weaponry and defense. These displays are meant for education, but more importantly to honor the men and women who sacrificed so much so we can enjoy the freedoms we have today.
